

Excelsio Selected As Wireless Consultant for City of Milledgeville, GA

Alpharetta, GA, May 8, 2007: Excelsio Communications, the premier municipal broadband consulting group, has been selected by the City of Milledgeville, GA, to provide needs analysis, RFP development and management and project management services in conjunction with their wireless broadband initiative.

The City recently received an $862,000 grant from the State of Georgia as part of the Wireless Communities Georgia grant program. Excelsio will assist the City in taking the next steps in its wireless project. The City expects to release an RFP for a service provider within the next two weeks.

“We are thrilled to work with Excelsio. We believe that their vast experience working with mid-market communities will allow us to quickly accelerate our efforts to provide the entire City with affordable broadband access,” said Mayor Richard Bentley.

“We feel privileged to work with the City, and look forward to helping the City to develop a comprehensive yet realistic project plan for how wireless broadband can promote economic development, facilitate Digital Inclusion and enhance the delivery of municipal services,” stated Karl Edwards, President of Excelsio.

“Excelsio has already provided great assistance in assessing the needs of the City as well as helping us to identify the steps that are needed to attract the greatest amount of interest from service providers that may build a network in Milledgeville,” remarked Russell Thompson, City Planner.
